AMBITIOUS PARTNERSHIPS: LINKING COMMUNITY AND BUSINESS

Thursday 27 February 2020
9:30 am – 2:00 pm

Camphill Community Glencraig,
4 Seahill Road, Holywood, BT18 0DB

Back by popular demand, Jonathan Andrews will take the private sector on the journey from 'remarkable partnerships' to 'ambitious partnerships'.

The opportunity for a charity to partner with a company is very exciting. These partnerships have the potential to deliver transformational benefits for the company, the charity and society. Charities are tackling enormous problems and their work is very meaningful, whilst companies are great at solving problems and are often rich in resources. This means there are exciting opportunities to create ambitious partnerships based on shared value.

Jonathan is passionate about helping charities and corporates to seize the opportunity. We are delighted that he is returning to Northern Ireland to be involved in this exciting event in 2020.

Our suite of volunteering initiatives help you support the local community, and provide meaningful employee engagement and development opportunities. Our Volunteer Action Days that run throughout the year are designed as team-based challenges with something to suit everyone.

We also offer tailored, bespoke volunteering opportunities for teams of staff and for individuals who want to share and develop their skills. Volunteers could teach someone how to use the internet, share their professional skills to help a local social enterprise become more sustainable.
