TIME TO... WORK WITH VIRTUAL VOLUNTEERS

Volunteer support now available to help KS2 pupils with their literacy, numeracy or digital skills.

Business in the Community's* Time to Read, Count and Code programmes are now available for delivery online with all volunteers fully trained. They also have a valid Enhanced AccessNI certificate.

Business in the Community will work with your school to decide which of the following platforms would be the best to deliver your Time to... sessions:

- MS Teams
- Collaborate Ultra
- Google Meet

Time to Read

Online involves volunteers reading with pupils using the eBooks available through the Libraries NI website or Libby reading app

Time 2 Count

Volunteers can help pupils become more confident with maths through the fun videos and quizzes available on Classroom Monkey

Time to Code

Pre-recorded sessions are available. These can be uploaded to the learning platform you are using to help continue creative and coding skills

Business in the Community has been working with schools for over twenty years through volunteering programmes, to support pupils with skills like literacy and their confidence. We have moved some of our face-to-face programmes online in response to COVID-19. All Time to . . . sessions will be available in schools when it is safe to do so.
