Northern Ireland environmental BENCHMARKING survey

The NI Environmental Benchmarking Survey is an annual environmental management self-disclosure exercise open to businesses of all sizes and from all sectors in Northern Ireland.

Taking part is free and enables an organisation to publicly demonstrate its commitment to being environmentally responsible and transparent, and the process and results allow organisations to examine and reflect on their environmental performance to compare themselves to others and to drive improvements. Participating organisations are scored and the results, trends and findings – which provide an insight into environmental action in Northern Ireland – are shared via an annual report.

> It's crucial that everyone plays their part in delivering a net zero, nature positive future. That's why my department is supporting the Northern Ireland Environmental Benchmarking Survey, to positively influence businesses to identify their environmental impacts and showcase those who excel, and I would encourage organisations of all sizes and from all sectors to take part in 2025.

Minister Andrew Muir, DAERA

Top 40 Forum | Belfast Harbour | 9 April | An exclusive event showcasing top-performing organisations from the Northern Ireland Environmental Benchmarking Survey.

Guests took part in a roundtable discussion that considered best practice, addressing barriers to sustainability, and innovation and collaboration opportunities for businesses.

DAERA Minister Andrew Muir (right) outlined his Department's ambitious goals to tackle climate change, drive green growth, promote nature recovery and reduce unnecessary waste.

A panel of four exemplary NI businesses - Encirc, GRAHAM, NIE Networks, and Spirit AeroSystems -shared real-world sustainability strategies, achievements and best practice from their organisations.
